Rod of Love?

One day, I was walking with Mev
in the town centre

Then we saw a boy crying and naging his mother in the middle of the street.

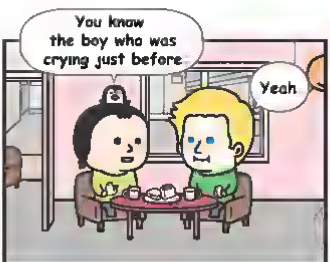
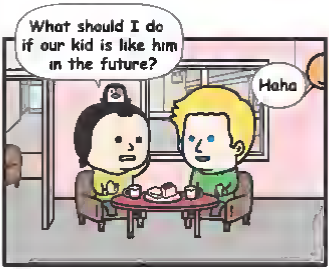
I personally love kids but when I see them not being nice like that,
it makes me nervous.



We continued the conversation
after we got in the cafe to have lunch.



What should I do if our kid is like him in the future?
Haha

Kids sometimes don't stop even though they are told off.

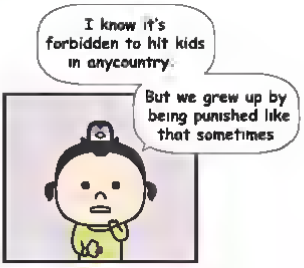
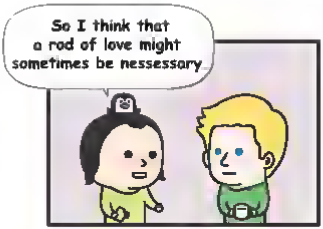
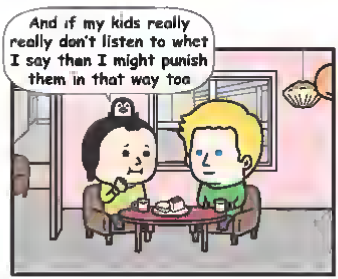
And some kids seem very difficult to raise.. What if our kid is one of them?
Ha ha.. Well~

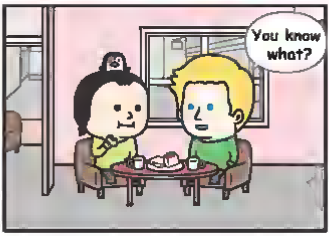


I know it's forbidden to hit kids in anycountry.
But we grew up by being punished like that sometimes



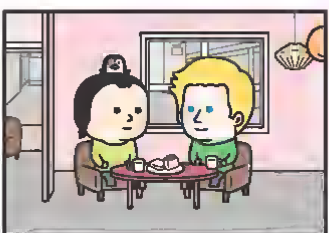


After Mev listened carefully to what I said, he answered me.



You know what?

Punishing the kids like that is the easy way.



It made me think
'Then, how?'.

It's still hard to answer that question but...

It definetely made me think this.

Being a parent seems easy but being a good parent seems very difficult, I thought.

Is this love?
